Krakow is the former capital of Poland, a city of kings, full of memorabilia of glorious Polish history, but also vibrating with young energy. Krakow is one of the most popular Polish cities among tourists. Why is it worth going there? The city owes its success to amazing monuments and a unique atmosphere. The Wawel Hill, with the Royal Castle and the Cathedral - the place of coronation and burial of Polish kings, overlooks the city. The Main Market Square is one of the largest European squares. Here you will see an amazing Gothic church with the famous mediaeval altar by Veit Stoss and with amazingly colourful Art Nouveau walls. One of the oldest monuments is the historic seat of the Jagiellonian University - Collegium Maius.

The Main Market Square is full of life around the clock, thanks to numerous restaurants, clubs and events, while underground, 4 meters below the surface, one finds the remains of medieval stalls and learns about the city's oldest history. The old Jewish district of Kazimierz adjoins the Old Town. Narrow streets, stylish pubs and small galleries make us feel as if we were traveling in time.

Krakow is the capital of the Malopolska Region with great number of perfect destination trips. Our Camp gives a unique opportunity to meet people of various cultures, to learn about their countries and customs. The participants may also taste various cuisines and cook their national dishes. There is possibility to try the excellent Polish food as well.
